Open to all levels: beginner to advanced artists

Paint under our shady trees with award winning Plein Air Artist, Christopher Monteiro. Bring your easel, folding chair, sunscreen, bug spray, watercolor gear & lunch. Be inspired by Chris's watercolor demonstration, then proceed to create a watercolor of your own. Chris will be there to help you along the way.

About Christopher: Chris is a graduate of School of Visual Arts, New York Institute of Advertising and Pan American Art School where he later taught courses in Advertising and Design Layout and Fine Arts. He had a long and distinguished career as a commercial artist and instructor. Chris paints in oil, acrylic, pen and ink, watercolor, and mixed media. Christopher participated in three different Urban Sketchers in Singapore. He has also participated in plein air events in several states. Taking advantage of local beauty and historical sites, he organizes and demonstrates plein air for a group of artists on a regular basis.

Christopher has received many awards and accolades in his artistic endeavors, among them, having the distinction to design the first New York City Marathon T-shirt in 1976. Christopher is currently an art instructor in Lower Makefield where he teaches watercolor. He holds additional demonstrations and workshops throughout the year.
